ENTERTAINING THE WALLPAPER* WAY

Wallpaper*, the international design, fashion and lifestyle magazine, is celebrating the festive season with an issue dedicated to the fine art of entertaining. Waving goodbye to the noughties in true Wallpaper* style, the December issue is a party popper from start to finish.

Wallpaper* has commissioned three designers to rethink, rewire and reduce the disco for the domestic diva. Moritz Waldemeyer, Philippe Malouin and Kiwi & Pom have designed truly dazzling pieces, such as a laser-studded dancing cage-come-coffee table, especially for Wallpaper*. And to ensure a head-turning entrance, we have come up with bright 1980s – in a good way – looks for the ladies and timely watch ideas for the gents.

Meanwhile, turning up the heat in the kitchen, super chef Mark Hix has fired off a radical remix of the traditional Christmas dinner. With a Hix Fix cocktail and absinthe jelly on the menu, it certainly is the season to be jolly.

And it's not just in the kitchen that Wallpaper* turns the traditional on its head. This month we also make our way

Upstate, to the elegantly surreal estate of design-art grandee Wendell Castle, and then fly south to the striking island escape of architect John Portman. Finally, while looking for a more personalised party location, we transform Oscar Niemeyer's French Communist Party headquarters in Paris into a startling space odyssey.

With a limited edition front cover designed exclusively for Wallpaper* by Turner Prize-winning artist Anish Kapoor, currently showing at the Royal Academy of Arts in London, Wallpaper* sees the year off with a real bang.
